Holidays in Parenthesis () are not Observed by all the Banks.

Holidays falling on Sunday observed the day after. Notes and acceptances due on holidays are payable day after except Nevada and Texas, where payable day before.

Eclipses

There will be four Eclipses this year, as follows:

- I. Annular of the Sun March 7, invisible in America.
- II. Partial of the Moon March 22, invisible in U. S.
- III. Total of the Sun Aug. 31. More or less visible in its partial phases throughout N. America. The total phase will be visible in N. H., Vt. and Me. in the afternoon; at Portland about 3 p. m.
- IV. Partial of the Moon September 14, invisible.

THE PLANETS

Mercury may be seen Jan. 1—10, Sept. 3—10, and Dec. 15—20, rising about 1h. 15m. before the Sun. Also Mar. 21 and then decreasing to invisibility the last of June. She will then reappear in a few days in the eastern morning sky where she will rapidly gain in brightness until Aug. 5, after which she will fade to the end of the year.

Mars will be invisible the first of the year, but will pass the Sun Feb. 1 and then rise in the morning until the last of Nov. when on the Meridian at 6 A. M. Then in Dec. he will begin to rise in the evening. He will not be at his brightest within the year, but may be best seen at its close.

Jupiter will be brightest and an all-night-star in Jan. Feb. rising at Sunset Feb. 7 and later setting in the morning until May 4 and then in the evening until Aug. 6 when he will set with the Sun and therefore invisible for many days before and after that date. He will reappear in the East, rising in the morning until Dec. and then in the Evening.

Saturn will be dim or invisible in Jan. and will be best seen in the early mornings of Feb. passing the Meridian at 6 A. M. Apr. 24, after which rising in the evening until July 24, when rising at Sunset, being brightest and an all-Night-Star July—Aug. Setting in the morning until Oct. 22 and then in the evening until the end of the year.

Uranus will be brightest Oct. 14 and Neptune Feb. 26, but even then invisible without optical aid and knowledge of exact place.

THE SEASONS.—(E. S. T.) Winter begins (1931) Dec. 22, 2-30 eve., Spring March 20, 2-54 eve.—Summer June 21, 10-23 mor. Autumn, Sept. 23, 1-16 mor.—and Winter Dec. 21, 8-15 eve.

METEORS

For Centuries the earth has been visited by unusually brilliant displays of Meteors, or shooting Stars, at intervals of approximately 33 years. One of these periodic showers is due in Mid-November, 1932.

GERTRUDE EMERSON WED IN CALCUTTA

Author of "Voiceless India"
Married to Basiswar Sen,
Scientist, on Nov. 2.

BRIDE FLUSHING (L. I.) GIRL

She Is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society—Couple to Live in Calcutta.

Dr. and Mrs. Alfred Emerson of Flushing, L. I., have announced the marriage of their daughter, Miss Gertrude Emerson, to Basiswar Sen of Calcutta, India, which took place Nov. 2 in Calcutta.

Mr. Sen and his bride will live in Calcutta, where he maintains a research laboratory.

The bride, who is the author of "Voiceless India," a study of Indian village life, was graduated from the University of Chicago. She is a Fellow of the Royal Geographical Society, one of the founders of the Society of Woman Geographers and a member of the American Asiatic Association. She has traveled extensively in the Orient and has contributed many articles on Oriental subjects to Asia, a magazine with which she has been associated since it was first published in 1917, as well as to several other magazines.

Mr. Sen was graduated from the University of Calcutta and for several years was associated with well-known Indian scientists. He later pursued independent research in the cellular structure of plants both in Europe and in the United States. His scientific work has been published by the Royal Society of Great Britain.

JANET WRIGHT WED TO JOHN C. BYERS

M. Ceremony in Bride's Mother's Apartment in Ritz Tower Performed by Rev. Dr. Coffin.

The marriage of Miss Janet Wright to John Crawford Byers took place yesterday afternoon in the apartment of her mother, Mrs. Emily H. Wright, in the Ritz Tower, which had been decorated with Autumn flowers and foliage. Only members of the two families were present at the ceremony, performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, president of the Union Theological Seminary.

The bride, who is a daughter of W. De Forest Wright, wore a gown of ivory colored satin, made with a cowl neck and long sleeves. Her veil of tulle fell from a cap of rose point lace and was held in place with orange blossoms. She carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

Mrs. Robert C. Myles Jr. was her sister's only attendant. She wore a gown of dusty pink crushed velvet and a brown tulle turban. She carried a bouquet of tea roses and brown asters.

Mr. Byers, the son of Dr. and Mrs. John Byers of Pelham Manor, N. Y., had Stuart F. Edson for best man. There were no ushers.

The ceremony was followed by a large reception.

Mr. Byers and his bride, after a Southern wedding trip, will live at 311 East Seventy-second Street. He is a member of the architectural firm of Byers & Edson.

BABY SHOW TO BE HELD THIS MONTH

Babies—scores of babies. Babies with curly hair, with straight hair—smiling, crying, goo-gooing, blue and black eyed and brown eyed babies. Boys and girls, jocosse and morose, all lined up in front of a group of judges who will weigh them, discuss them, compliment them, talk baby talk to them—and everyone, including the babies, will have a nice afternoon.

This scene, or one similar to it, will take place at the St. John's Episcopal Parish House on Lamb street on Thursday afternoon, October 20, when Bellefonte's first baby show, sponsored by the St. John's Guild of the church, will be held.

The only requirement for entrance into this event is that the applicant be under four years of age. As the judges pass along the line, they will award handsome prizes to the youngest baby, the prettiest baby, the jolliest one, and maybe even the one who cries nicest will get a prize. One of the prizes will be a photograph of the winner done by the McGarvey studio.

The entrance fee for a mother and baby will be 25 cents. General admission to this unusual event will be 25 cents, which will include tea. Anyone wishing further information is requested to communicate with Mrs. Hugh M. Quigley of East Linn street.

VIRGINIA L. MILLER TAKES FIRST PRIZE

Bellefonte's first Baby Show was a tremendous success. It was held on Thursday afternoon in the Parish House of St. John's Episcopal church for the benefit of that church. Seventy-one babies were present and the one hundred and fifty onlookers had a difficult time voting their choice of so many attractive babies.

The results of the balloting was as follows:

The best baby in the show was Virginia Louise Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward R. Miller, Bellefonte. Her prize is the photograph to be taken at the McGarvey Studio.

Honorable mention is given to Sally Perks, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Perks, and Hugh M. Quigley, Jr., who tied for second place.

In the infants' class, Sally Perks won prizes for the prettiest and jolliest; those in second place for honorable mention were Clara Eloise Sheckler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sheckler, of Milesburg, and Hugh M. Quigley, Jr., respectively. Donald Ray Hackenberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M.

VIRGINIA LOUISE MILLER

Hackenberg, Runville, won the prize for the fattest; and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kellerman was second.

In class B, one to two years, Joy Ann Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Owens, won as the prettiest girl and also the friendliest. Virginia Louise Miller and Shirley Lou Gettig were second, respectively. The best-looking boy was Dan R. Clemson, Jr., and second was Charles M. Thompson, Jr.

In class C, two to three years, the prettiest girl was Margaret Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leif Olson; second, Barbara Rose Roberts, of Milesburg. The best-looking boy was Cameron Heverly, Jr.; second, Gerald W. Reeder, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reeder. Gerald won first as friendliest and Mary Ellen Gallagher, second.

In class D, three to four years, the prettiest girl was Susan Sheffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Sheffer, with Mina Jane McGroarty as second. The best-looking boy was Jackie Cliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cliffe; Herbie Malin, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Malin, came second. Kenny Widdowson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Widdowson, won the prize for the friendliest, with Mina Jane McGroarty, a close second.

DR. F. W. CROWDER DIES IN BALTIMORE

Rector of St. James Episcopal Church Here Succumbs
at Johns Hopkins

WAS CATHEDRAL TRUSTEE

The Rev. Frank Warfield Crowder, D. D., rector of St. James Protestant Episcopal Church, Madison Avenue and Seventy-first Street, died today in Baltimore at Johns Hopkins Hospital. He was sixty-three.

Dr. and Mrs. Crowder had recently returned from a summer abroad and were visiting relatives in Baltimore. Dr. Crowder planned to preach his first sermon of the fall next Sunday.

Memorial services will be held at St. James here and in Baltimore simultaneously Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. Interment will be in Baltimore. Bishop William T. Manning will take part in the services here.

Dr. Crowder, long a prominent member of the Protestant Episcopal Church here, was born in Baltimore the son of Alexander N. and Deborah J. Crowder. He received his A.B. at Randolph-Macon College in Virginia. He also studied at Dickinson College, Drew Theological Seminary, and the University of Tubingen in Germany. He received a D.D. from Brown University in 1920.

From 1894 to 1900 he was a minister of the Methodist Episcopal Church. In 1901 he became a deacon and priest of the Protestant Episcopal Church. For nine years he was rector of Christ Church, New Brighton, N. Y., and at Grace Church, Providence, R. I., for six years. He came to St. James in 1916.

He was a trustee of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, a member of the Society of Colonial Wars, Phi Beta Kappa and Beta Theta Pi. He lived at 829 Park Avenue.

In 1924, along with eleven other Episcopalian clergymen, Dr. Crowder signed a statement recognizing "freedom of views," but urging patience and faith.

"We hold with Dean Inge that faith is an act of self-consecration. It is the resolve to live as if certain things were true, in the confident assurance that they are true."

MANNING BARR'S HOME IS ROBBED of Sun 11/6/32 Jersey Burglar Gets Gems of New York Broker.

The home of Manning Barr, New York broker, in Raritan township, N. J., was entered early today by a masked thief who held up Barr and his wife, escaped with jewelry and money and then looted the house at door.

The Barrs were asleep when the robber entered their bedroom. "Lie still, or I'll fill you full of lead," he warned. Then he asked where the jewelry and money were kept. He placed the gems and money in his pockets and before leaving, cut the telephone wires. The loot was estimated at several thousand dollars.

From the Barr residence, which is next to the property of the Plainfield Country Club, he went into the home of J. P. Stevens, Jr. He did not rouse the Stevens family, but took all loose valuables.

The Barrs notified Chief Charles J. McCarthy of the South Plainfield police. He began an investigation and turned it over to the Raritan township police who arrived shortly after he did.

W. B. WELLING IS DEAD AT 79

Real Estate Man and Banker
Came of Noted Family.

H. NELSON WALKER DIES AT 54

Wall Street Broker Was Member of Firm of Clarke, Dodge & Co.

William Brenton Welling, a real estate broker, died yesterday in his home at 815 Park avenue after a brief illness. He was 79 years old and was active in business until a short time before his death.

He was engaged in the banking and brokerage business until the world war, when he became associated with Charles G. Edwards in real estate, with offices at 93 Worth street.

A son of the late Charles H. and Katherine Greene Welling, Mr. Welling was a descendant of John Welling, a revolutionary leader of Trenton, and related also to Roger Williams and to Gov. Brenton of Rhode Island. He was graduated from the Sheffield Scientific School of Yale in 1872.

Survivors are his widow, the former Gertrude Lindsay Howe of Brookline; three sons, Brenton, Charles H. and Lindsay H., and a daughter, Mrs. Augustus A. Vanderpoel.

Funeral services will be held at 3:30 P. M. tomorrow in Grace Church, Broadway and Tenth street, of which he had been a member for forty years.

J. R. Boyd Gets Majority in A. B. & C. Corporation.

A majority interest in the American, British & Continental Corporation has been acquired by J. R. Boyd, who has resigned from the J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation to assume the presidency of the investment trust.

Control was acquired through the purchase of common stock held by ten foreign banking interests and by Blyth & Co., Inc., who had been associated with the J. Henry Schroder Banking Corporation in sponsoring the trust in 1926.

These foreign banks include Oesterreiche Credit Onstalt, Societe Generale de Belgique, Bohemian Union Bank, Banque de l'Union Parisienne, Dresdner Bank, J. Henry Schroder & Co. of London, Hungarian Commercial Bank of Pest, Lippmann Rosenthal & Co., Stockholms Enskilda Bank and Credit Suisse.

Net assets available for the preferred and common stocks at the end of 1930 were approximately $8,400,000 and at the end of 1931 are estimated at around $3,500,000.

WILLIAM ISELIN & CO. ACQUIRED BY GROUP

125-Year-Old Textile Firm Is Taken Over by Commercial Investment Trust.

The Commercial Investment Trust Corporation through the formation of a new corporation, William Iselin & Co., Inc., has acquired the factoring business of William Iselin & Co., a 125-year-old firm operating in the textile field, it was announced yesterday. The transaction involved no financing or increase in the outstanding stock of the Commercial Investment Trust, according to Henry Ittleson, president of the latter company.

"The new corporation," Mr. Ittleson said, "is another wholly owned subsidiary of Commercial Investment Trust, and will continue as a separate organization under the guidance and supervision of the active partners of William Iselin & Co. It will be independent of our other factoring subsidiaries, Commercial Factors Corporation and the recently created unit, Meinhard, Greeff & Co., Inc."

Lincoln Cromwell, chairman of the board of the new corporation, said the partnership of William Iselin & Co. would continue to operate the selling and manufacturing divisions of the business. The Iselin-Jefferson Company, selling agency for William Iselin & Co.'s cotton goods business, will continue under the management of Oliver Iselin and Floyd W. Jefferson.

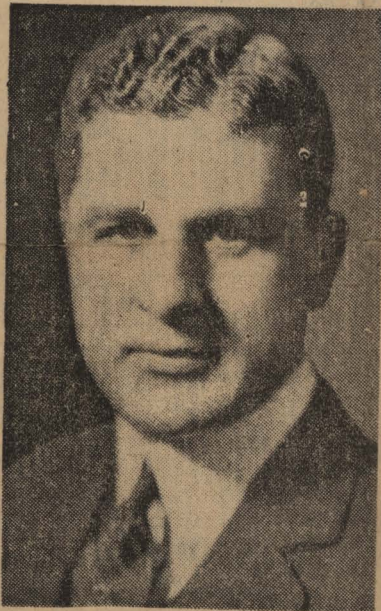

The cotton goods commission business, which has been in existence for twenty-five years, will be factored by the new corporation. Plans are under way for the development and expansion of the business of the Iselin-Jefferson Company, Mr. Cromwell said.

The officers of William Iselin & Co., Inc., all of whom are either partners of William Iselin & Co. or have long been connected with the firm, are: Mr. Cromwell, chairman of the board of directors; Arthur Iselin, chairman of the finance committee; Jarvis Cromwell, president; K. P. Budd, executive vice president and assistant treasurer; George A. Vondermuhll, vice president, secretary and treasurer; Oliver Iselin, vice president; John W. Fitzgerald, vice president; Charles C. Lickel, assistant treasurer, and William G. Betsch Jr., assistant vice president. The board of directors will be composed of Lincoln and Jarvis Cromwell, Arthur and Oliver Iselin; Mr. Budd, and Mr. Vondermuhll, and the following executives of Commercial Investment Trust: Mr. Ittleson, Edwin C. Vogel, chairman of the executive committee; P. W. Haberman, vice president and general counsel, and Robert G. Blumenthal, vice president.

Either Lincoln Cromwell or Arthur Iselin will become director of the Commercial Investment Trust, it was said.

The Iselin division of Commercial Investment Trust will begin operations with an estimated annual volume of $60,000,000. Its business will bring the total volume of textile factoring done by Commercial Investment Trust to more than $200,000,000 annually. The three factoring divisions of C. I. T. will serve more than 575 mills, converters and importers in various textile fields.

J. Stewart Baker, New Chairman of the Manhattan Company.

J. S. BAKER HEAD OF MANHATTAN CO.

As Chairman He Succeeds Late P. M. Warburg, Whose Son Is Made Vice Chairman.

NEW POST FOR F. A. GOODHUE

President of the Manhattan Trust Heads Board of International Acceptance Bank.

J. Stewart Baker was elected yesterday chairman of the board of the Manhattan Company, succeeding the late Paul M. Warburg, while James P. Warburg, son of the banker, was elected vice chairman of the board to succeed Mr. Baker.

F. Abbot Goodhue, president of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company, was elected chairman of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc., to succeed the late Mr. Warburg.

Mr. Baker, who is in his thirty-ninth year, was only thirty-four when he became president of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company in 1927, an office that had been held by his father and grandfather, Stephen Baker and Stephen Baker the elder.

Mr. Baker was born in Lawrence, L. I., and was graduated from Princeton in 1915. He joined the Bankers Trust Company as a messenger and later was assigned to the trust department. At the outbreak of war he joined the navy as an ensign and served until discharged in January, 1919.

Resumed Banking After War.

In 1919 he became an assistant cashier in the Union Square office of the Bank of Manhattan Company and was elected a vice president the following year. In 1922 he became a director and moved to the main office at 40 Wall Street, serving in the trust department. Late in 1927 he was elected president of the Bank of Manhattan Company and became head of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company when the former company was taken over by the latter in 1929. At the same time he became chairman of the executive committee of the Manhattan Company.

On Dec. 10, 1931, to enable Mr. Baker to devote more time to the affairs of the Manhattan Company, he was relieved of his duties as president of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company and was elected vice chairman of the board of directors of the Manhattan Company and vice chairman of the Bank of Manhattan Trust Company.

Mr. Baker is president of the New York State Bankers' Association and a director of the Manhattan Company, Bank of Manhattan Trust Company, Bank of Manhattan Safe Deposit Company, International Acceptance Bank, Inc.; New York Title and Mortgage Company, National Mortgage Corporation, S. Slater & Sons, Inc., and Mohawk Carpet Mills, Inc.

Warburg Also Served in War.

James P. Warburg was born Aug. 18, 1896, at Hamburg, Germany, attended Middlesex School at Concord, Mass., and was graduated from Harvard in 1916. Until the outbreak of the war he was with the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad Company and then enlisted as a student aviator in the Naval Flying Corps. He was promoted through grades to Lieutenant and was honorably discharged in December, 1918.

After serving a year with the National Metropolitan Bank in Washington in various capacities Mr. Warburg went to the First National Bank of Boston, becoming assistant cashier, and in 1922 became secretary of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc. In 1923 he became vice president, and in 1929 he resigned to become president of the International Manhattan Company, Inc. Recently he was elected president of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc.

Goodhue's Banking Career.

Mr. Goodhue was born in Brookline, Mass., on June 14, 1883, and was graduated from Harvard in 1906, attending Harvard Law School for one year. In 1907 he became a messenger with the First National Bank of Boston. In 1912 he was appointed president of the Brookline Trust Company, and in 1913 was elected vice president of the First National Bank of Boston. In 1917 he established the bank's branch in Buenos Aires.

In 1918 Mr. Goodhue was appointed one of the three United States members of the International ler, and in 1922 became secretary of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc. In 1923 he became vice president, and in 1929 he resigned to become president of the International Manhattan Company, Inc. Recently he was elected president of the International Acceptance Bank, Inc.

BEATRICE GAWTRY WED AT ST. THOMAS

Becomes the Bride of Jose
Antonio Machado Jr. in Candlelight Ceremony.

FLORAL SETTING OF WHITE

Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks Officiates—Small Reception Held at the Colony Club.

In the presence of members of the two families and a few close friends Miss Beatrice Gawtry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Gawtry, was married to José Antonio Machado Jr. yesterday afternoon in the chantry of St. Thomas Church. The rector, the Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks, performed the ceremony by candlelight in a pink and white floral setting.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was of flesh-colored satin, made with a draped bodice finished with a deep V neck and long sleeves puffed at the elbows. Her veil was of chiffon, caught to the coiffure on each side with a small cluster of orange blossoms, and she carried a sheaf of calla lilies.

There were two bridal attendants, Miss Olive Van Rensselaer Gawtry, sister of the bride, and Miss Mildred Tytus of Washington. They were gowned alike in ruby-colored velvet and velvet toques of the same shade, and carried muffs of ruby-colored chiffon, on which had been fastened clusters of deep mauve orchids.

The bridegroom, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. José Antonio Machado of Ottawa, Ont., had his brother, John Machado of Toronto, for best man. The ushers were T. Merrill Prentice of Hartford, Conn., brother-in-law of the bridegroom; William Richmond Jr. of Providence, R. I.; Frederic C. Thomas of Cold Spring Harbor, L. I., and Hamilton A. Long of this city.

After the ceremony there was a small reception at the Colony Club. Mr. Machado and his bride will sail shortly for London, where he is connected with the foreign department of the Bankers Trust Company of this city.

July 18, 1932

Dear Sammy:

I am in the office, therefore the typewritten letter, but you'll excuse a little thing like that won't you.

Thanks for your card that arrived last week. I am glad to know that you and Phil are behaving yourselves. Give him my best.

It seems that so much has happened to me since you've been away. I can hardly believe that it has only been one week.

On Thursday morning, early, Peg telephoned me here at that office and told me that Dad had called her at 5 A.M. to say that Don had been killed in an automobile accident Wednesday night at 11 o'clock. He had been down here in New York with another boy and left here at 8 o'clock and it happened on the way back. They were on a road between Anemia, N. Y. and Sharon, Conn. The road is narrow and winding, and they were going around an "S" curve, up hill. They made the first turn all right, but missed the second, which was very sharp and smashed into a hugh tree. Don was driving a brand new Buick phaeton, two or three weeks old. The other boy was killed instantly, but Don did^{not} die until three hours later in the hospital at Sharon. He of course ~~was~~ unconscious, had internal injuries, fractured skull, concussion of the brain, etc. They must have been going at a terrific speed. The car caught fire immediately and the other boy was very badly burned up.

I left the office at 12:30 on Thursday, met Dad at Peg's, left on the three o'clock train for Stockbridge, where Don lived and where they had taken him to the undertaking establishment. Dad and I arrived at 7:30 that night, met Allyn there and went to the undertaker's and made the arrangement for bringing him back to Philadelphia. We came down on Friday. Saturday morning, I drove over to Philadelphia with Aunt Adelaide and Tat, met Dad, Peg and Drew and Don's wife, Betty there. There~~s~~ services were held at three o'clock in an undertaking establishment and he ~~was buried with~~ Mother at West Laurel Hill Cemetery. We drove back to East Orange. Got home about 8:30, simply exhausted, and am still feeling a bit rocky. A thing like that is a horrible shock, even though it may be for the best.

I have been working like the old devil in the office since you've been away. As a matter of fact, I have a bunch of dictation that I must toss off right now.

When are you coming back? - next week? It seems funny not meeting you for lunch (in other words, I miss you).

This letter is a mess, but I've written it in about two minutes, just wanted you to know I was thinking about you. My mind isn't working very well this morning - can't seems to concentrate.

Best,

Heleen
